

what's new

The latest events and foodie news around Australia.

national

FESTIVAL TIME

May is a busy month for regional food festivals. Halls Gap in Victoria will host the 17th annual Grampians Grape Escape on May 3-4 (grampiansgrapeescape.com.au); May 10 marks Moree on a Plate in NSW (moreeonaplate.com.au); and foodies in Queensland should visit Dimbulah Lions Amazing Food Festival on May 31 (email: jatmurador@bluemaxx.com.au).

STORM IN A TEACUP

Australia's Biggest Morning Tea is on again, so organise a morning tea at your home or workplace on May 22, and raise money for cancer research. Visit: biggestmorningtea.com.au.

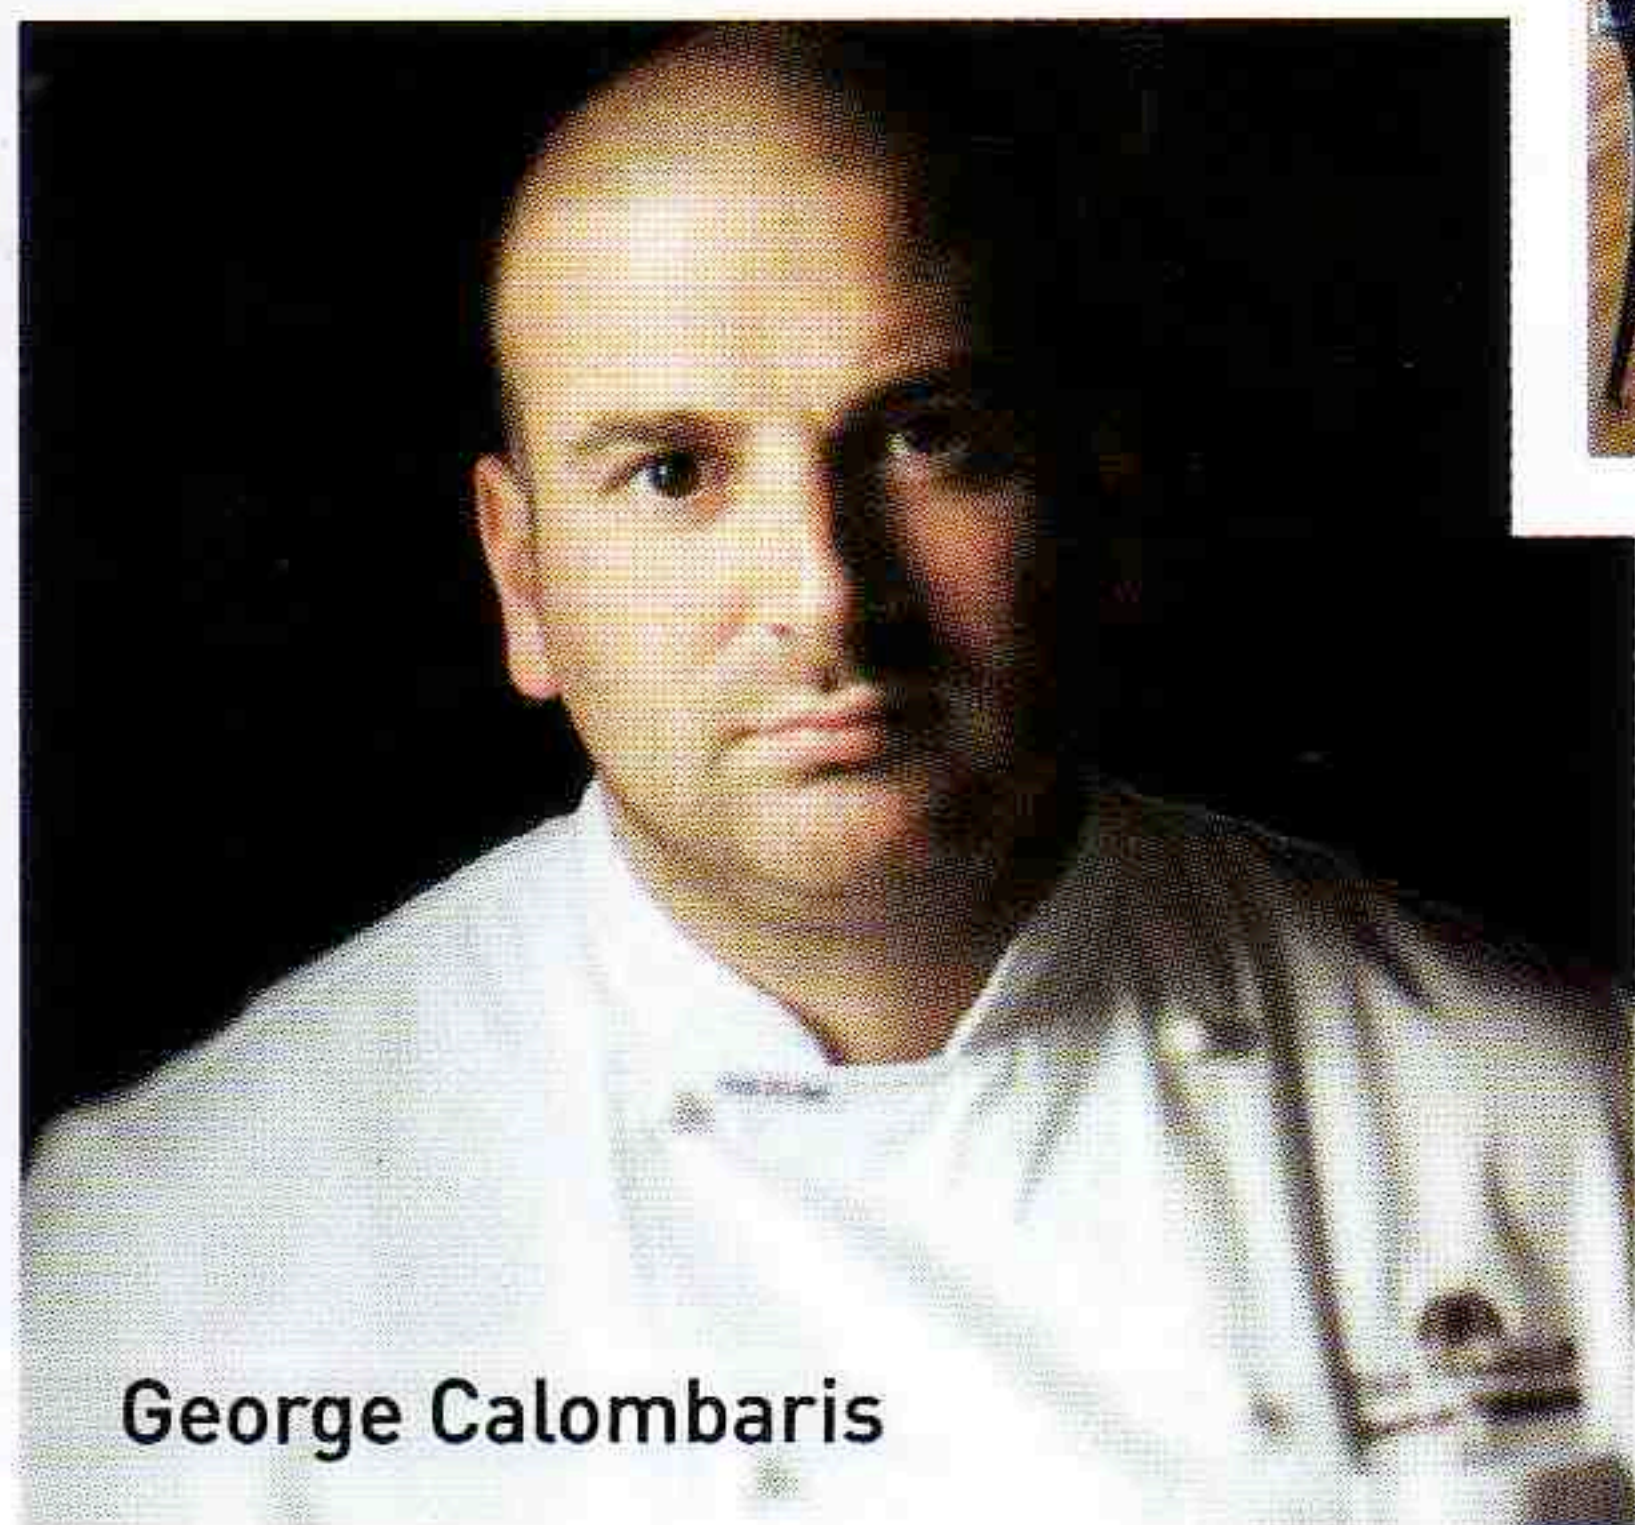

is a relaxed take on their one-hatted fine diner, with dishes like Spanish croquettes. 1084 High St, Armadale, (03) 9500 2566.

FAIR GROUND

The new Oxfam Shop in Doncaster Shopping Centre stocks fairtrade products for foodies, including coffee, tea, chocolate and spices. Ground floor, 619 Doncaster Rd, Doncaster, oxfamshop.org.au.

Bells at Killcare

George Calombaris

new south wales

SEA CHANGE

Sydney chef Stefano Manfredi has gone 90 minutes up the coast to command the kitchen at Bells at Killcare Restaurant and Bar. The Italian-inspired menu changes daily, based on what is harvested each morning from the estate's garden. Also expect local produce like Gundooee wagyu beef and Hawkesbury calamari. 107 The Scenic Rd, Killcare, (02) 4360 2411.

victoria

STREETS AHEAD

Over 30 of Victoria's top restaurants will take part in Eat Street, a fundraiser for